No one should have to give up the things they love in later life.

However, many people do.

While 97% of us want to grow older in our own homes, in reality, the care home is still seen as the only option when we need full-time care.

Elder is changing that.

Your home is part of who you are, and we can help you stay there. Elder is an award-winning care marketplace that connects older people and their families to trusted independent carers. With Elder you get to maintain your routine and way of life, all while getting the dedicated care you need.

10 million+ hours of care

delivered across England, Scotland and Wales

5000+ independent carers

on the Elder platform. Each carer has been background checked and quality assessed.

90% satisfaction rate

90% of Elder customers are fully satisfied with the carer they're matched with.

More Choice

You have the right to choose, starting with who your carer is.

Combining a personal touch with ElderMatch technology, we'll identify carers with the right experience and character for your needs. Before choosing who you like best, you'll have plenty of time to get to know their passions and skills through their profile and introductory video. You can even chat to them to help you and your family feel comfortable with your decision.

More Control

Whether you're ready now or are planning ahead, you're always in control.

We can connect you to a suitable carer in just 24 hours - without compromising on the quality of care. Our technology-enabled service captures your every need and preference in detail and makes shaping and managing your care as simple as possible. It grows with you too - allowing you to add or update this information at any time.

More Support

Our support specialists and clinical team are here to listen, guide, and empower.

Big care decisions need bespoke support. Our care advisors are on hand to explain and guide you through all the arrangements. Our internal clinical team reviews your needs in detail to make sure you receive a safe and quality service. And, once care is in place our knowledgeable family support team will ensure you have everything you need to confidently manage your care.

More Value

Invest in quality care, without unexpected extras.

With Elder, there are no surcharges over bank holidays or weekends and no joining or exit fees – just truly personalised care. With our trial week you can see what life is like with your carer without commitment. You can change your carer at any time too, and we'll never charge you extra for finding the right fit.

Our live-in carer has become like a member of the family and we appreciate her competence, guidance and support... We wouldn't be without her! And it has enabled mum to remain living at home.

Starting your care with Elder

Discover our step by step process for arranging care.

1. Give us a call or get started online

Give a care advisor and call today, or book a call at a time and day that suits you. You can also get started right now online by creating your free MyElder account.

2. Tell us what you need

Answer some simple questions to help us identify the right carer for your needs. We'll begin matching you with potential carers over the next 24 hours.

3. Complete your care profile

While you wait, fill in your care profile. Our clinical team will review this information to ensure live-in care can take place safely.

4. Choose your carer

Review detailed profiles for each carer you're matched with. Choose which carer you like best and chat to them, before making your final arrangements.

5. Get ready for the first day

Your carer will arrive between 12pm-2pm on their first day. If you're arranging full-time live-in care, the first week is a trial, so you can give it a go without commitment.

6. Manage care with MyElder

You and your family can control care from anywhere with MyElder. From reading carer updates and planning handover days, to keeping crucial care information updated.

Getting into a familiar and comfortable routine

Like anything, it can take a bit of time to settle in, it's why we put so much time and effort into understanding your needs, and uniquely matching you to great carers.

Knowing what to expect once care is in place can help too. If you choose full-time live-in care, your care schedule could look something like this.

MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI	SAT	SUN
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
8	9	10	11	12	13	14
15	16	17	18	19	20	21
22	23	24	25	26	27	28
29	30	31	1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12	13	14	15	16	17	18

Week one

Your chosen carer starts. They live-in, working up to ten hours a day, with two hours of breaks taken intermittently throughout the day. This first week is a trial week.

Week two and three

Provided everything is going well, the carer will remain in place, supporting with everything required to make the most of life.

Week four

Your carer takes time off to rest and recharge. We'll help you find the right respite carer that can move in and provide support while they're away.

Week five to seven

Your carer returns. They'll typically be in place for another three to four weeks. This working pattern will usually then continue, so everyone can get into a comfortable and familiar routine.

Looking for short-term care?

At Elder we also offer short-term live-in care - starting from as little as three days. You'll get all of the same benefits as our long-term care package including the choice of who your carer will be.

Respite
Whether you need cover for yourself, a family member, or a professional caregiver, we'll help you find someone you can count on.

Rehabilitation
We'll find the specialist support needed to safely get back home and on the road to recovery.

Emergency cover
Life can be unpredictable. If you suddenly find yourself in need of temporary care, we'll work with you to find a solution in 24 hours.

Julia's story

Finding peace of mind for the whole family.

My mum used to look after my Dad. When she passed, we quickly realised that Dad's dementia was actually more advanced than we thought. He would wander off into the night and we would get phone calls from neighbours, or sometimes even the police. Luckily, they were all lovely about it, but it was a big worry.

We decided we needed someone to be there all the time with him. We got an appointment with a care home, but as soon as we got inside Dad just broke down and said he didn't belong there. I couldn't do that to him.

My son searched for care at home and came across Elder - when we realised that they could find a carer for us in less than a week, I just said 'let's go for it.'

"We treat Susan like she's part of the family, because that's how she treats my Dad"

We were sent a profile for a carer called Susan. At first, I did hesitate a little, because of Dad's generation and dementia, I didn't really know how he'd react to someone from a different background. However Dad took to her straight away. She immediately asked me how I was coping, and I just burst into tears. She said 'Well, that's why I'm here'.

We treat Susan like she's part of the family, because that's how she treats my Dad. For my Dad's birthday Susan threw him a surprise party and invited everyone locally. She even bought him a cake.

Since Mum passed he was worried about going to church and used to sit on his own, but now Susan goes with him and sits with him. They sing together, go for walks, and just generally have a nice time.

Susan has really settled into the area. She has befriended all the neighbours and they think she's wonderful. They say we have done an amazing thing for Dad in finding Susan.

Sarah's* story

Taking back control after a period of managed care.

My Mum had a fall, and when she was discharged from the hospital, they put her on a care package for seven weeks, all paid for, without us choosing who this care provider was.

Once the seven weeks were over, we used three managed care agencies. With the managed care services, I found it frustrating; I'm an ex-nurse and wanted more input into my parents' care. I know my parents very well, and with my background, I knew what they needed, but I wasn't allowed to help with the care plan.

For example, with our local provider, they wouldn't let Mum sleep upstairs with my Dad. Their reasoning was if we had the stair lift blocking the stairs for her safety, it would then be a fire risk. However, an occupational therapist said that the best thing for my Mum mentally would be to be back with my Dad at night.

“...you can build a trusted relationship before they even begin care.”

They have been married for 60 years, and when she was in the hospital, he would often climb into the bed with her to stay close. I had to prioritise their mental health, so we parted with that care company.

Eventually, a friend recommended Elder. You get to pick and talk to the carer beforehand, so you have someone who is a right fit; this also means you get a chance to explain to them who they'll be caring for. The carer gets to ask questions, and you can build a trusted relationship before they even begin care.

We have two excellent carers who alternate. They're both completely different; one is 24 years old and has a brilliant connection with Mum and Dad; they get on so well. The second carer is 65, makes fresh soup and ensures the house is spotless every day (I do say to her, 'you know you don't have to do that every day, right?'), and she's super chatty.

They're both polar opposites, but it works, and my parents love them both. It's really lovely, that's why we stayed with Elder; it really is about finding the right carers.

The carers

We go to great lengths to ensure that every self-employed carer on our platform is someone you can trust and get on with. We perform the detailed background checks and assessments you'd expect from a leading care provider, starting with the simple question, 'Would I want this person looking after my own mum or dad?'

Communication

Every carer has a good level of written and spoken English.

Experience

Carers must provide two professional and verifiable references.

Screening

Less than 10% of carers who apply to join our platform make it through our thorough screening process.

Support

For those that do pass, we offer an award-winning carer loyalty programme and support package

Elder is where the carer is just as important as the person being cared for. Great rates, great placements and great communication from the Elder team.

Elder's carer of the month

While the role of a carer isn't unique, the impact they have and how they make people feel is. Each month Elder customers are invited to nominate a carer who has gone the extra mile.

Our panel carefully selects the carer they believe has exceeded our standards, with the winner receiving a luxury hamper to enjoy with the person they're caring for.

“...we celebrate their compassion and commitment to care.”

Why choose live-in care with Elder?

Care at home isn't just a nice idea, it's linked to better health and well-being.

Our home care options can provide better value for money

You'll have the full-time support of a single carer of your choice rather than a staff of carers. In a care home, there is no 'care staff per resident requirement' - there just needs to be sufficient staff to meet the Care Quality Commission's (CQC) basic requirements in other areas. This can result in one member of staff caring for multiple residents at once.

It allows you to maintain your own lifestyle in your own home

There's no need to adjust to a new set routine or downsize.

The value of your home won't be included in your funding calculation

If you're eligible for funding support from your local authority and you want to be cared for at home, the value of your home shouldn't be counted as an asset during your financial assessment.

Reduced risk of falls

Compared to residential care, live-in care may reduce the risk of a fall by 33%.

Greater independence

37% of care home residents never leave the home. A live-in carer can support with seeing friends and family, or even just popping to the shops whenever and wherever you'd like.

Keep the same GP

Arranging live-in care means never losing your GP. Keeping the same GP has been linked to a reduced likelihood of being admitted to hospital.

“Our dedicated clinical team review every case to ensure live-in is suitable.”

What makes Elder the best choice for live-in care?

We're here for you both practically and emotionally throughout your care experience.

No hidden fees

We don't charge extra for registration, carer matching, or up to 2 wake ups per night.

A simple, fixed rate

Some introductory agencies leave it between the carer and the customer to agree a price. We'll ensure you pay one set weekly rate and support you with secure payment services.

Easy break cover

We'll always arrange cover for all scheduled breaks or any instances of carer sickness. And, if a change of circumstance means you need to find a new carer, we'll help you do so quickly and for no additional cost.

Clinical support

We have a dedicated clinical team who reviews every case to ensure live-in is suitable. They'll also continue to assess any changes you make to your needs in your care appraisal.

Quality carers, always

We have a community of thousands of specialist carers to suit your specific requirements. Our carers have experience caring in various circumstances and for different conditions.

What families are saying about Elder

“Great service. Great carers. Straightforward pricing. I’d highly recommend.”

Rebecca Berkshire

“Elder staff are extremely efficient at interpreting the needs of the family and in finding first and foremost a primary carer - in our case to start very quickly... I would recommend them without hesitation.”

Jenny Suffolk

“I have found Elder to be sensitive to my father’s needs from the very first contact. His carers are tremendous and make everything they do about dad and keeping him informed, healthy and happy.”

Kathleen East Lothian

“There are no hidden charges with Elder. You pay your weekly price and that’s it, unlike other companies I have dealt with.”

Helen Derbyshire
